International Legal Framework

ER TERRORISM

1960s – 1990s: Development of 12 (now 19) legal instruments on terrorism acts

1990s: General Assembly efforts – Measures to eliminate international terrorism, ad-hoc draft Convention

Use of new Sanctions regimes (1963 -)

2001 – present: Security Council resolution 1373 (2001), terrorism poses a threat to international peace and security

20 SCR resolutions since on CT

FTF (SCR 2178), primary responsibility & human rights compliance (SCR 1456), countering terrorist narratives (SCR 2354), promoting tolerance (SCR 2686)

Definitions

Counter-Terrorism Architecture

Security Council: Counter-Terrorism Committee, CTED and Sanctions Committees

General Assembly: Establishment of UN Office of Counter-Terrorism (2017) and Global CT Compact (2018)

UN capacity-building and technical assistance support to Member States

Checks and balances:

- a. Sanctions Ombudsperson
- b. Special Rapporteur on CT & Human Rights

Trends in Global Terrorism

1980s establishment of Al Qaeda, “Afghan Mujahideen”

- a. High capacities: Training, resources, marketing
- b. Targeting & tactics - lone wolves, affiliates

Emergence of ISIL/Da’esh (2004) and its Caliphate (2014)

- a. Far-enemy vs. Near-enemy
- b. Territorial control, battle experience, ‘Foreign Terrorist Fighters’

Evolution towards conflict zones, new “epicenter” in Sahel

- a. Co-option, exploitation of localized grievances & conflict
- b. Counter-terrorism deficits

Growth in “far-right violent extremism” or XRIRB

- a. Transnational linkages – online
- b. Growth in youth/online radicalization

9th Review Global Counter Terrorism Strategy

Summary

Member States are guided in their counter-terrorism efforts (legal, operational, preventative) by the International Legal Framework on Counter-Terrorism

The CT Architecture in the UN incorporates the Security Council and the General Assembly, and calls for coordination and capacity building, among others

There are ongoing challenges for the architecture to respond to emerging trends and issues in terrorism and violent extremism

Case Studies

Case Study 1: Preventing and Countering Violent Extremism conducive to Terrorism

FRAMEWORK

GLOBAL

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN IN PRACTICE?

Framework

Secretary-General's Plan of Action to Prevent Violent Extremism (2015)

8th Review of the Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy (2023) (A/RES/77/298), which, building upon the latest reviews, urges unity and increased cooperation across the UN System and Member States to tackle new and emerging threats, such as terrorist attacks on the basis of XRIRB and the misuse of new technology for terrorist purposes, encouraging Member States to develop programmes enhancing interreligious and intercultural understanding and respect.

Key UN Resolutions

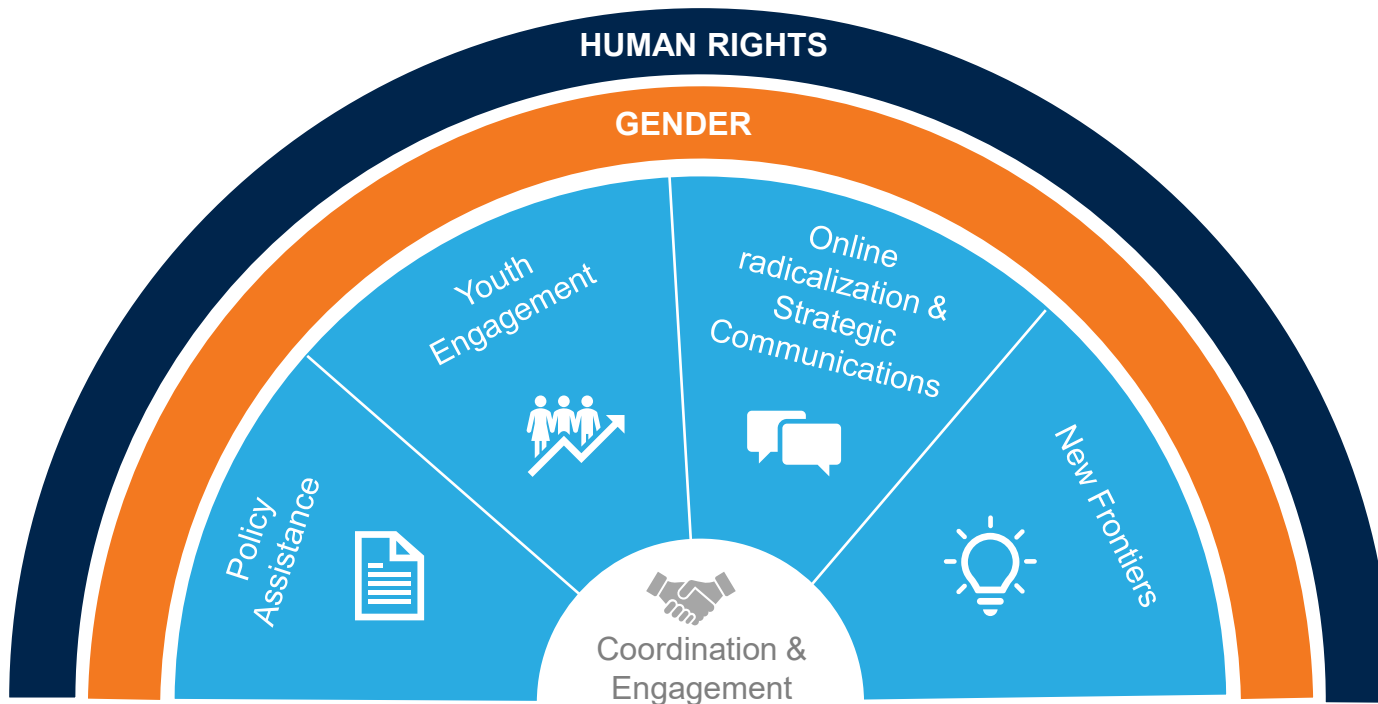

Security Council resolution 2178 (2014) (S/RES/2178), which makes explicit the link between violent extremism and terrorism and recognizes the need for prevention: “violent extremism, which can be conducive to terrorism”, requires collective efforts, “including preventing radicalization, recruitment and mobilization of individuals into terrorist groups and becoming foreign terrorist fighters”.

Security Council resolution 2354 (2017) on the Comprehensive International Framework to Counter Terrorist Narratives (S/RES/2354), which calls on all United Nations entities to ensure greater coordination and coherence with donors and recipients of counter-terrorism capacity-building; that counter-narrative measures and programmes should be tailored to different contexts; that all measures must comply with Member States’ obligations under international law; and that research into the drivers of terrorism and violent extremism is necessary to develop more focused counter-narrative programmes.

Security Council resolution 2686 (2023) on Hate Speech (S/RES/2686), which (i) urges Member States to share good practices promoting tolerance and peaceful coexistence and address hate speech and extremism in a manner consistent with applicable international law, (ii) highlights inter-religious and intercultural dialogue as an important tool to achieve peace, social stability and internationally agreed development goals, (iii) condemns misinformation, disinformation and incitement to violence against United Nations peacekeeping operations, and (iv) highlights the necessity to involve local communities, women, youth, civil society and religious leaders whenever appropriate to prevent violent extremism conducive to terrorism.

Global PCVE Programme - An Overview

Three examples

Youth Engagement and Empowerment

Online radicalization to terrorism: video games and gaming adjacent platforms

The impact of Artificial Intelligence on PCVE

Example: Youth Engagement for PCVE

Empowerment

Training, coaching and mentoring young leaders to engage with their peers on difficult conversations

Engagement

Establish mechanisms for meaningful youth inclusion; build a UNCCT network of youth alumni; and broker dialogues with senior officials

Communication

Augment the voice of young women and men to show the powerful and positive role they play to promote peace and social cohesion in their communities

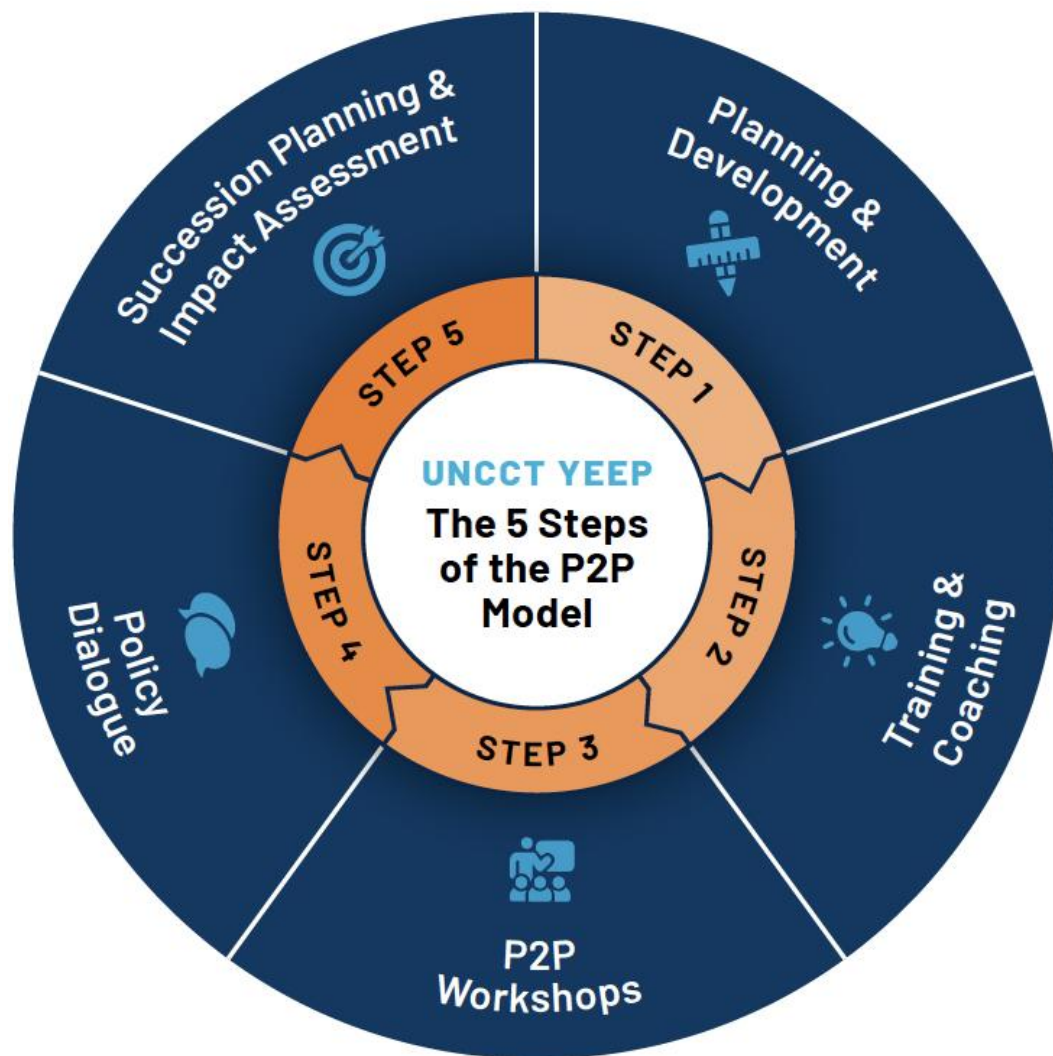

Local partnerships

Emphasis on synergies within the UN system, and leveraging the position of civil society organizations and private sector actors

YEEP Peer-to-Peer (P2P) Model

Rationale

P2P Model: Strengths

- Adopting a flexible approach
- Policy dialogues provide a unique opportunity for young people to engage with key decision-makers
- Local partners play a key role in shaping programme delivery

Example: Gaming and Violent Extremism

2022 Study: The Intersection of
Gaming and Violent
Extremism (Global)

2024/2025: Level
Up: Gaming and Violent Extremism
in Africa

2025/2026: Gaming
and Extremism in Southeast Asia

Harms: Exposure to Extremism is Commonplace

Over 80% of respondents have encountered some violent or hateful content in gaming spaces

More than 30% of respondents report frequent exposure to:

- Misogyny
- Racism/xenophobia
- Homophobia

Around 2/3 responded they have seen extremist content in gaming environments

How do gamers respond to this content?

Most ignore it, some block users, or leave the space.

Few report, even fewer react, because “reacting gives attention”, which will “only encourage more of it”.

“The Next Billion Gamers will be African”

Demographics: 349 million people across Africa play video games (10% increase YoY)

- Nearly 50/50 male/female players
- Median age is 19.2

Revenue across the Continent: $1.8 billion (12.4% increase YoY vs 2.1% globally)

- Egypt ($386 million); Nigeria ($300 million); South Africa ($278 million)
- Eritrea and Niger are fastest growing markets.

Platforms & Leagues

- Mobile (92%), almost all on Android (85.74% market share). Accounted for 90% of industry income.
- Mobile games are also now interactive, multiplayer
- Half of players use computer games; a third consoles
- Gaming centers are also popular (communal hubs)
- Esports leagues present in 30 African nations.

Studios (Rapidly Expanding)

- 250 game studios based across the continent
- From 2023 to 2024, West Africa increased from 12 to 57 (a nearly five-fold increase); in Southern Africa from 5 to 35 (seven-fold increase); and in East Africa from 8 to 24 (three-fold).

What can we do?

Detect

- Improve early warning monitoring and research focused on gaming, specifically through open source investigations, surveys, and research data requests for gaming platforms to understand TVE across surfaces on the continent.

React

- Provide targeted training for intelligence and law enforcement, counter-terrorism teams, platform trust & safety staff, and community moderators.

Prevent

- Support positive interventions to boost resilience in gaming communities against violent extremism, such as through esports mentorship programs, retooling violence prevention social and behavioral change programs to be deployed on gaming platforms, and improving offline integration with gaming corners and cafes.
- Develop basic gaming literacy curricula that discusses online harms from a variety of perspectives, from CSAM to TVE.

Case Study 2: Prosecution, Rehabilitation and Reintegration

MEAN IN PRACTICE?

Framework

Builds the capacity of Member States to develop and implement comprehensive and tailored prosecution, rehabilitation, and reintegration (PRR) strategies for individuals associated with terrorist groups

The term “individuals associated with terrorist groups” includes:

- persons suspected or convicted of terrorism-related offences nationally or internationally i.e. includes but is not limited to foreign terrorist fighters (FTFs)
- accompanying family members e.g. spouses and children
- examples: former associates of Al-Shabaab in Somalia, Boko Haram in the Lake Chad Basin, Jemaah Islamiyah in Indonesia; and people who have been residing in camps and places of detention in northeast Syria following the territorial defeat of ISIL/Da'esh in 2019 (70,000 people from 47 countries)

In response to Security Council resolutions 1393 (2001), 2178 (2014), 2349 (2017) and 2396 (2017), Member States' strategies need to address the diverse circumstances of these individuals, and ensure PRR strategies are design and implemented in accordance with international law

Prosecution, Rehabilitation and Reintegration Response Structure

Example: Camps with ISIL affiliated populations in Syria and Iraq

Humanitarian Concerns: health, extreme weather and violence in the camps

Human Rights Concerns: indefinite detention, violation of right to fair trial and due process, infringement of right to education and best interest of the child, right to nationality, preserving the family unit

Security Concerns: ongoing conflict, uncontrolled return, potential external attack, radicalization to terrorism in the camps, continued support to ISIL in the detention facilities, witness intimidation

Example Response: Global Framework

Different UN agencies involved in various topics- urgent need for coordination

Different countries adopted disparate set of positions on the subject

Call for Coordinated UN Action: 15 partners together produced the Global Framework

Case Study 3: Victims of Terrorism

GLOBAL

MEAN IN PRACTICE?

Framework

Programme overview

The only United Nations programme dedicated to supporting victims of terrorism, humanizing the impact of terrorism on individuals and communities, and ensuring that victims' voices are at the core of counter-terrorism and prevention efforts.

Four Key Priorities: Solidarity & Advocacy (amplifying victims' voices), Policy & Collaboration (advancing policies and partnerships with States, UN, and CSOs), Capacity Building (strengthening laws, policies, and services), and Empowerment (enhancing victims' visibility as advocates, educators, and peacebuilders).

Guided by the UN Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy

Pillar I – addressing conditions conducive to terrorism.

Pillar IV – ensuring respect for human rights and the rule of law.

Anchored in Key UN Resolutions

GA resolution 72/165 – proclaimed 21 August as the International Day of Remembrance of and Tribute to Victims of Terrorism.

GA resolution 73/305 – reaffirmed the importance of supporting and protecting the rights of victims of terrorism.

The Programme ensures victim-centric, trauma-informed, inclusive, and participatory approaches that foster resilience, prevent secondary victimization, and promote global collaboration for a future free from terrorism.

Solidarity, outreach and advocacy

International Day of Remembrance:

Established by UNGA as a global platform of solidarity, observed every 21 August. In 2025, the theme was United by Hope: Collective Action for Victims of Terrorism. The 2024 commemoration reached 41M+ people worldwide and featured the UN SG, UNOCT USG, Member States, and victims from around the world, amplifying voices and raising global awareness.

International Conference on Victims of Terrorism

Building on the Global Congress in 2022, the first International Conference was held in 2024 in Spain, establishing a biennial global platform for solidarity, advocacy, and policy dialogue. It gathered 430 participants from 67 countries. Iraq has announced its intention to host the 2026 International Conference.

Policy and coordination:

Launch of the Victims of Terrorism

Associations Network (VoTAN) the first-ever global network bringing together 120+ victims and associations worldwide. VoTAN strengthens solidarity, amplifies advocacy, and promotes collective action, showcasing victims as powerful advocates, educators, and peacebuilders.

Technical Assistance and Capacity Building Model Legislative Provisions (MLP) – A Global Framework for Victims' Rights

Launched the Model Legislative Provisions (MLP) and National Comprehensive Action Plans (NCAPs) project to strengthen national legislative and policy frameworks for victims of terrorism. Successfully piloted in the Philippines and Nigeria, engaging 115+ stakeholders, the MLP has become a key reference tool to advance victims' rights, assistance, and protection worldwide.

Storytelling and Visibility:

Memories Campaign & Legacy Gallery – Amplifying Victims' Voices

Flagship initiatives amplifying victims' voices through exhibitions and digital storytelling. The Memories Campaign reached 30,000+ visitors in Spain, France, and UNHQ New York, while the Legacy Gallery engaged youth audiences with 8,000+ impressions and 3,500+ followers. Together, they foster global remembrance, resilience, and advocacy.

Summary

There are many complex challenges for multilateral bodies in implementing the International Counter Terrorism architecture, including the changing nature of terrorism and violent extremism

Three areas of examples of diverse responses to this challenge are in PCVE, PRR and Victims of Terrorism

UNOCT remains flexible in responding to shifts in threats and emerging coordination needs
